This from the Delegate in Nevada

Robinette Cook for Vice Chairman-North of California Republican Party

by Barry Pruett on Monday, March 7, 2011 at 9:14pm

In February, I was fortunate enough to meet both Robin Cook and her opponent in the election for Vice Chairman-North of the California Republican Party. This election will be held at the CRP Convention in March. Robin Cook is a solid conservative; she is the type of conservative that California Republicans need in the CRP. Having worked for Congressman Herger in the past, she understands the politics of success.

When I met her in Chico, she espoused the principles with which I wholeheartedly agree - our rights come from God, and that the genius of our United States Constitution is the idea of a limited form of government. Robin said, "Our Founding Fathers had it right when they started this country, but the advance of liberal progressives over the last century, especially here in California, has threatened the very liberty and individual freedom for which people gave their lives those many years ago."

That being said, Robin's opponent came to our Nevada County Republican Central Committee meeting and told us that we needed to get away from our "rigid positions" and compromise. What he called "rigid positions," I call integrity. Lack of rigid positions and compromise have directly lead to California's massive deficit and dysfunction. We can no longer compromise on our conservative "rigid positions." These solid conservative principles are the foundation that brought about an American prosperity that this world had never previously seen.

If we fail at any level to elect solid conservatives, we risk losing the liberty and individual freedoms that we hold dear.

Vote for a true conservative Republican - Vote for Robinette Cook for Vice Chairman-North of California Republican Party.
