Do you really have a boyfriend....or were just saying that to get Rodney to bug off? Yes,.....he is definitely on the war path. I wouldn't talk to him at all....even for the money. You don't want your professors and stuff involved in this.

Im not making anything public

Well, you both are nice, fun people....and this public fight is only getting worse. He's getting ready to e-mail all the CSUS professors, republican people, club presidents....everyone you know and everyone that knows you .....and this drug, stealing, stripper b.s. is only going to hurt you both.

You guys need to chill! ...or he does because it's going to make you both look real bad to people that may matter.

So, how's everything else?

Have you ever loved somebody so much it hurt! Loved someone so much that you lost your own soul in the process! I have spent the last year losing myself in a relationship that stole the very fabric of my being! I truly thought I had found my soulmate and no matter how destructive the relationship was it only kept getting worse. I proposed to her on Valentines Day 05 hoping that would make her happy. We talked about kids and family. I included her in every facet of my life in hope of making it better. Then as it spiraled down the path of destruction you just keep hoping, praying, and wishing it would get better. You keep trying afraid to let go of that brief glimmer of hope that brought you together in the first place could be realized again! To be in love with someone so badly that you are willing to change everything about yourself to please them and to be so depressed because nothing seems to work. I apologize to all my friends and family that I have left behind in my quest to have a perfect relationship. I have screwed up my life so badly in the past that I thought I had found a Love that would make everything better. I just never realized that all she ever cared about was money. Someone to support her because she can't support herself. A sugar daddy that allows her to rule unconditionally. I spent a year failing to provide her with the means to be happy. I just didn't realize that the only way she would be happy is if it is all or nothing. She believes that she is the most important person in the world and that no one else matters but her. As I write this I wonder if I will ever be okay from this moment forward. I have lost myself and am not sure I can ever get back to where I used to be! She broke my heart and has destroyed the very fabric of my belief in the good of others. I tried so desperately to Love her, Her family, Her friends. Her parents are wonderful, Her sisters are bordering genius. It has been a pleasure knowing them. I never like to say I regret my choices in life but at this point I quit. It's over! I can't believe that I was so completely caught off guard. She dumped me after wasting a year of my life making me miserable. Always trying to blame me for all of lifes problems. Claiming that no one in her family likes me and no one approves of me! Always talking down to me and being insulting. Yet I kept trying to make her love me and failing. Never realizing that it would never happen. She moved out in October to be on her own claiming that it would somehow help our Relationship to be apart and start over. I found out she had cheated on me before she moved out and I forgave her. Only after she cheated on me again after she moved out did I start to realize that it would never work and I was wasting my time. Then she apologized and promised never to do it again. I made the mistake of forgiving her again because she told me that she loved me and that she would change her attitude towards our relationship and everything would be okay. Everybody in my Family and Friends told me I was being stupid for taking her back. They told me that she was only around because I had just got paid and she wanted money. I gave her over $1000 to help her out which left me broke and without my own money to pay bills. Now I have no money and wow she just dumped me claiming that she doesn't love me anymore because I am broke and can't take care of her the way she deserves. So far this year I have made over $63,000 and don't have a dime to show for it! I am left penniless, and in debt. I still owe over $3000 right now for past due bills and that doesn't include coming December. I have no money coming in because in my haste to keep her happy I also failed to do my job and have no checks coming right now. So I guess this pretty much sums it up! I feel like a loser and a failure. What a waste of a good year. In the beginning of 2005 I was positive that this was to be my year to make right that which I have spent 37 years doing wrong. I just hate myself for being such an idiot at 38 years old. You'd think I would have learned. She has also blocked me from her My Space so I guess that's it - Good Bye!

he owed
it

rodneynregina@sbcglobal.net: I am totally confused - So I am getting chewed out for talking shit about you - but you are allowed to talk all the shit about me you want???????? Hum yeah - I would think that falls under hypocrisy - Don't you think - I could always forward you the copy of the discussion I had - maybe you could use it against me in some cool way!!! I'll have to write it down but let me know! .
rodneynregina@sbcglobal.net: If I was talking to someone and you came up I believe the conversation was more about how your shit has no effect on me and even your law suit will not really do anything so I'm not worried about it - I think I also covered the fact that you are pathetic since you only seem really upset that I have a good job, A normal Woman w/o your drama problems, and I believe I covered how pathetic it is that you left but keep coming back for more anytime it appears I might be successful - Sorry Too
Fucking Bad
