No.: MCV0047788 9 Plaintiff. VS. DECLARATION OF PLAINTIFF 10 IN SUPPORT OF PLAINTIFF'S MOTION FOR DEFAULT RENE AGUILERA 11 Defendants. JUDGMENT 12 (C.C.P. sec. 585(d))I, the undersigned, declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the State of 13 14 California as follows: 15 I am a Recovery Specialist employed by plaintiff BENEFICIAL 16 FINANCIAL I INC.. I have personal knowledge of the facts stated in this 17 declaration, or have acquired such knowledge in the course of my employment by 18 plaintiff and by examination of its books and records maintained in the ordinary 19 course of its business. If called as a witness, I could and would competently testify to 20 the matters stated in this declaration. 21 2. BENEFICIAL FINANCIAL I INC. is a licensee under the laws of the state 22 where the parties entered a written revolving credit agreement (the "Agreement"). A 23 true and correct copy of the parties' Agreement is attached to this declaration. 24 DECLARATION OF PLAINTIFF IN SUPPORT.. Pursuant to the Agreement, plaintiff opened and maintained a revolving credit account extending credit to defendant(s) under terms and conditions set forth in the Agreement, including terms pertaining to finance charges and interest (the "Account").

- 3. I am a custodian of plaintiff's business books and records. In the normal course of its business, plaintiff maintains computerized account records for customers who have borrowed funds or obtained credit from it. The records are kept in the ordinary and routine course of plaintiff's business by its employees, who are charged with the duty of recording all business acts, conditions and events onto plaintiff's computers at or near the time of each such occurrence. I have personally reviewed plaintiff's records regarding defendant's(s') Account with plaintiff, and I make this declaration based upon that personal review.
- 4. The computerized ledgers maintained by plaintiff's employees constitute the principal records of amounts due and owing to plaintiff for any and all transactions that occur when a credit account with plaintiff is used. The ledgers reflect all debits and credits to the account, including against whom and in favor of whom the entries are made. The entries are made in the regular course of plaintiff's business, and a written statement of the account detailing all such transactions, charges and credits is provided to each of plaintiff's accountholders monthly.
- 5. The figures in this declaration were obtained from my personal review of plaintiff's computerized ledger for defendant's(s') Account. A true and correct copy of plaintiff's computerized ledger for defendant's(s') Account which I reviewed and DECLARATION OF PLAINTIFF IN SUPPORT..

which details defendant's(s') Account transactions and balance due is attached. This history of charges, credits, interest and payments was made and kept in the ordinary course of plaintiff's business.

- On or about December 31, 2009, defendant(s) defaulted in making the 6. Account payments due as required by the Agreement. There is now due and owing to plaintiff from defendant(s), the sum of $16985.74. Despite plaintiff's demands, no part of this sum has been paid.
- 7. As a result of defendant's(s') failure to make monthly payments as agreed, and pursuant to the Agreement's terms, plaintiff accelerated the Account balance so that the entire unpaid Account balance became immediately due and payable.
- 8. It is plaintiff's regular business practice to mail its borrowers monthly statements of their accounts reflecting all debits and credits to those accounts. This practice was followed for defendant's(s') Account. Plaintiff has no record of defendant(s) ever objecting to the balance shown as due and owing on plaintiff's monthly statements provided to defendant(s) regarding the Account or, if an objection was made, plaintiff thoroughly investigated all such disputes and determined that all sums were properly credited or charged to the Account.
- 9. I have personally completely and thoroughly reviewed defendant's(s') Account records. There is no notation that defendant(s) reported the Account as lost or stolen. If plaintiff had received such a report, either in writing or orally, notation of that report would be contained within plaintiff's business records. Plaintiff has no record that defendant(s), or anyone, reported to plaintiff that the Account was lost or DECLARATION OF PLAINTIFF IN SUPPORT..
